What is Kung Fu Academic

Kung Fu Academic is a name I gave my brand, under which I present my coaching, competing, research and writing about martial arts. In terms of coaching, the name should provoke academic approach. I aim to be a bridge between two worlds: It is about training and coaching in a smart way, passing complex deep knowledge of Chinese traditional martial art with the use of modern thinking and methods.

About the Kung Fu Style

I am teaching kung fu, traditional Chinese martial arts. There are many very different families of styles, the style I coach and practice is called Hung Kuen (Hung Gar), or sometimes nicknamed Tiger and Crane, and comes from southern China. Therefore, stances are firm and strong, there are 5 animals and 5 elements present in the mindset as well as the techniques, and we have a whole arsenal of weapons. There are no acrobatics of jumping as one could see in modern wushu.

The lineage is important. Not only it shows what exact family is somebody training under, almost like a business card, but it marks some specifications of how certain things are practiced in that lineage, too.

The lineage is: Wong Fei Hung > Lam Sai Wing > Lam Jo > Wong Lei > Leung Kam Kwong > Wong Chung Man > Veronika Partikova
